

Sea-GEM: MEDITERRANEAN HOMERe-GAME SYMPOSIUM
Civitavecchia, 28 Mars 2019

SEA GREEN ECONOMY for the MEDITERRANEAN:
A valuable asset for Youth and its employability

This symposium follows the preparation of the 2 Rives Summit of Marseille, June 2019. It is based on the experiences of the Mediterranean actors of the Blue Economy, of the program HOMERe and of the GAME group (Giovanni Ambasciatori Mediterranei). This symposium considers all the fields covered by Sea activities: port activities, maritime transportation, ship repairs, fishery, aquaculture, residential needs, tourism, custom, safety, cultural heritage...

9:30-10:00 Welcome Addresses

10:00-10:50 Workshop 1: Sustainable Blue Economy: State of the Art in Italy.

Chair: Massimo Guarascio (Sapienza Engineering Faculty)

- Introducing Video
- L.Lupi, G. Marinucci, Port Authority Civitavecchia
- E.Rodés, School of Intermodal mobility*
- S.Ricci, A. Campagna, P. Degirolamo, Università di Roma, La Sapienza
- E.Fiorelli, G.Pizzi, F.Veriani, Engineering School Students: Networking and Intermodal mobility on the Mediterranean
- E. Cyriac, Sapienza student

* European School of Intermodal Mobility was founded by 3 Port Authorities (Barcelona, Civitavecchia and Genova) and 2 companies (Grimaldi, Napoli and GrandNavi, Genova). Since January 2019 does exist the branch of the School based and organized in Civitavecchia.

10:50-12:45 Workshop 2-Sustainable Blue Economy: Mediterranean challenges

Feedbacks introduced by Northern and Southern Mediterranean companies and organisations. Strengthening North-South cooperation in the Mediterranean area for a sustainable blue economy: Employability of young people and fight against climate change

Chair: Bouchta El Moumni (UAE Tanger)

- J-E.Aubert, Université Internationale de la Mer : Challenges affecting Blue Economy in Mediterranean
- B. El Moumni, UAE Tanger: Maritime Spatial Planning : Management Practice in Morocco
- Th. Tsoutsos-Technical University of Crete: concept on near Zero Energy Ports
- O. Boiron, RMEI: How to predict air quality particularly in port areas close to urban centres ?
- M. T. Chaouch, Vice-President of Tanger-Tétouan-Al Hoceima: Opportunités d'employabilités offertes par la région Tanger-Tétouan-Al Hoceima en relation avec l'économie maritime durable
- R. Egal, lesMed: Mediterranean interconnexion for Solidarity Blue Economy
- E.El Kordi, President Alexandria University: the Egyptian point of view
- A. Ben Cheikh Larbi, J. Abdellaoui, G. Abdelmalek, ENSIT Tunis: Grand Lac de Bizerte experience for fisheries

- A.Mazurier, Direction des Projets & de l'Innovation-Altran France : I.T. and oceanography
- Th. Tsoutsos, Technical University of Crete: Sustainable tourism (Energy, Mobility)
- J. Chircop, University of Malta
- A.Pomes, Directeur Centre Européen de Formation Continue Maritime : What is more sustainable than the maritime economy, what is more international than the maritime trades?
- N. Alami, Conseil régional Tanger-Tétouan-Al Hoceima : Economie bleue et Insertion des jeunes : difficultés et perspectives.
- A. Zabaniotou, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki: Gender equity and Sea trades

12:45-13:30

Workshop 3: Employability of Youth thanks to the Sea Green Economy

How to promote sea trades and attract youngsters and students to the sea professions.

Chair: Mara Lombardi (RMEI)

- Noha Fathi, HOMERe, an ambitious program for employability
- Francesco Losurdo, Comunità delle Università Mediterranee-CUM
- F. Amanati, M.Adamo, The Blue Economy curriculum at the Baccelli School of Economy at Civitavecchia and Università di Tuscia:
- Maryam Chahidi, former HOMERe Intern: testimonial about the HOMERe internship

13:30 -14:30

Lunch

14:30-16:00

Workshop 4: Proposals for the near future and Action plan.

Round table with experts of Mediterranean countries

Chair: Léo Vincent (HOMERe)

How can companies, universities and local authorities join their efforts to better educate students to the trades of sea in the spirit of the green economy.

- Facilitate Networking
- Increase the circular mobility of interns
- Promote dual PhD linking university and company of two Mediterranean countries
- Establish Student Days for Sea Green Economy during which PhD students, Interns and companies can benefit each other of their own several complementary approaches: economic, science based, societal, social, technical...

16:00-17:00

Visit of the port of Civitavecchia

17:40

Departure of the Express Regional Train to Rome

Organizational Committee

Massimo Guarascio
 Francesco Di Majo
 Luca Lupi
 Léo Vincent

Participating Countries

Algeria
 Croatia
 Egypt
 France
 Greece
 Lebanon
 Italy
 Malta
 Morocco
 Spain
 Tunisia

Scientific Committee

Jean-Eric Aubert, President UIM (Université Internationale de la Mer)
 Ahmed Ben Cheikh Larbi, Professor ENSIT Tunis
 Olivier Boiron, Director RMEI
 John Chircop, Professor University of Malta
 Francesco Di Majo, President Autorità Portuale Civitavecchia
 Massimo Guarascio, President GAMeMichelangeloHOMERe
 Philippe Guillaumet, Secrétaire Général MEDPorts
 Essam El Kordi, President Alexandria University
 Mara Lombardi, President RMEI
 Francesco Losurdo, Director CMU
 Luca Lupi, Secretary General Autorità Portuale Civitavecchia
 Abdeslam Mamoune, Vice-President UBO
 Bouchta El Moumni, UAE Tanger
 Philippe Saliou, Vice-President HOMERe FRANCE
 Theocharis Tsoutsos: Professor Technical University of Crete
 Léo Vincent, Responsable HOMERe
 Anastasia Zabaniotou: Professor Aristotle University of Thessaloniki